	Title: Works of Alice Sielle Extent: 14 items Description: Digital copies of original artwork about Altab Ali's murder for the film Cable Street to Brick Lane by Phil Maxwell and Hazuan to mark the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Cable Street. Medium: monotype and frottage. Includes paper print outs Admin History: London-born artist Alice Sielle specialises in painting abstracts. The aforementioned records are digital copies of original artwork, produced for the feature film 'From Cable Street to Brick Lane' (2012). The film, which was made to mark the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Cable Street, drew on the murder of Altab Ali and the centrality of Brick Lane. Her use of the abstract to showcase local landmarks can be seen in 'Stations of The Cross' at St. Barnabas' Church, Bethnal Green. The work, which was commissioned in 2004, is a series of prints depicting Jesus Christ on the day of his crucifixion, together with accompanying prayers. Small-scale linocuts have been framed and placed at regular intervals around the church. Early in her career, Alice Sielle exhibited oils and water colours in the West Country, having studied at the Bath Academy of Art.* Local shows include, notably, an exhibition of monotypes staged at the Kobi Nazrul Centre in November 2015. Inspiration came via the murder of Altab Ali (1978) and the role of Brick Lane as a hub for immigrants and people fleeing persecution. The resulting monotypes became integral to the aforementioned 'From Cable Street to Brick Lane'. Among other exhibitions are 'Dog Show' (1998); 'Hidden Art' (1998) and 'Six Ravens and A Website' (2010) at the London Exhibition For Shelter, Tredegar Square. Part of the site was an air raid shelter during World War Two. 'Altab Ali' (2016) and 'Hope Not Hate' (2018) were shown at
